MASTER PLAN

Over the past 16 months, the Noblesville Planning Department has been updating the city's Comprehensive Master Plan. The City of Noblesville is nearing the end of this process and is seeking additional feedback from the public.

Don't know what a master plan is? ↗

From a 10,000 ft. level, this will establish a vision and strategic framework for the City's future. The ultimate goal of this comprehensive plan is to promote and enhance the many unique assets in Noblesville and protect valuable natural features while also strengthening the city's tax base and offering a variety of housing options, thereby creating a stronger community.

What does it include? ↗

These planning initiatives included the Downtown Streetscape Master Plan, the Housing Study and Policy Guide, the SW Quad Revitalization Plan, and an updated Thoroughfare Plan. Phase I was completed earlier this year. Phase II began in the fall of 2019 and has focused on three main areas: a floodplain analysis, an update to land use categories and Future Land Use Map, and an overall plan for future growth.

What are the next steps? ↗

The comp plan was introduced to the Noblesville Common Council on Dec. 17 and will be before the plan commission on Jan. 21, 2020. The council will see the plan again on Jan. 28 before potential adoption on Feb. 11.

DOWNTOWN PARKING

Starting on Tuesday, Jan. 21, the new parking program in downtown Noblesville will go into effect. Here are a few quick FAQs:

- In order to accommodate early meetings and multiple trips into town, enforcement has moved back from 8AM to 9AM for the area in yellow.
- If you're looking at parking downtown for longer than two hours, you're encouraged to park on the teal streets below or in one of the lots on the map (see below!).
- The updated kiosks are in place for the parking lots and are also set to go live. These are equipped to take credit cards & coins and will be functional with the ParkMobile App.
- And finally, this is a pilot plan that will be in effect through construction of the parking garage downtown. When construction completes, the plan will be revisited with the additional parking spots coming online.
